COMFORT

The folding table combines lightness, stability, and comfort for both the therapist and the client.

Comfortable massage table essential in physiotherapy

The BALANCE folding wooden massage table is a practical and versatile solution, designed for the daily work of massage therapists, physiotherapists and other professionals. The two-segment construction ensures stability and comfort for both the person performing the treatment and the patient. Thanks to its compact dimensions, light weight and the included bag, it is also perfect for mobile work – allowing for quick and convenient folding and carrying.

ADJUSTMENT

The table height can be easily adjusted with knobs to suit the user's needs.

Simple height adjustment mechanism

The table height can be adapted to the height and individual needs of the person performing the treatment using the knobs located on the table legs within the range of 62–92 cm. Each leg consists of two matching elements, and once the desired height is selected, simply screw the parts into the appropriate holes to ensure the table remains stable. Additionally, the frame construction is reinforced with metal cables, making the massage table solid and perfectly suited for a wide range of treatments.

HEADREST

An ergonomic, adjustable headrest provides comfortable head support and can be easily removed.

Comfort of treatments performed on the back

To ensure maximum comfort, the person using the table can rest their head on the ergonomic headrest, which is included in the set. This element is easy to adjust – it allows the angle to be adjusted in two planes, which makes it possible to precisely adjust its position to the user's needs and the nature of the treatment being performed. For supine therapy, the headrest can be removed, using a special hole in the tabletop instead. When not in use, the hole can be covered with the included plug, restoring the surface to an aesthetic and uniform appearance.

ARMRESTS

The model features armrests and a shelf for the arms, enhancing comfort in the prone position.

Ergonomic support for the arms

Regardless of the type of treatment performed or the position adopted by the patient, the correct positioning of the hands is essential – ensuring relaxation without hindering the therapist's work. This model is equipped with easy-to-install armrests and an additional shelf under the arms, irreplaceable when the patient is positioned on the abdomen. These solutions increase the functionality of the table and guarantee high comfort for the person receiving treatment.
